

Errata for the First Printing of Discovering Design with Earth Science

Student Text

- p. iv “They also needed to be committed to memory” should be “need”
- p. 9 In the figure caption, “in not” should be “is not”
- p. 10 “and that should help make then more familiar to you” should be “them”
- p. 11 Remember, meters can be abbreviated with a “m,” should be “an”
- p. 22 “only told you want” should be “only told you what”
- p. 37 “At the same time, however, the crust and the upper parts of the mantle push down on the everything below them” Should be removed
- p. 44 In step 2, “It just be composed” should be “It just should be composed”
- p.77 In the pie chart, the number under “aluminum” should be 8.1%, not 27.7%
- p. 98 “an extrusive igneous rock that formed as a result of lava being released from a volcano and then freezing.” The “of” is missing
- p. 104 “Similarly, metamorphic rocks are the result of existing rocks being changed.” “are” is missing
- p. 108 In the heading, “Different Scientific Perspectives of The Rock Cycle,” should not be capitalized
- p. 108 “However, they also might have also been broken off by someone” should be removed.
- p. 109 “because while Hadrian’s Wall is only 1,900 years old, while the rocks” should be removed.
- p. 116 “and the only things we know about trilobites come from their fossils.” “from” is missing
- p. 119 “As a result, energy is released.” “a” is missing
- p. 159 “The Richter scale and the moment magnitude scale are objective measures of how much energy an earthquake releases.” “how” is missing
- p. 165 “Furthermore, the seismogram it produces is so different from an earthquake’s seismogram that the in most cases, it is easy to distinguish between the two.” should be removed.

- p. 170 “This changes the path of those waves, producing a P-wave shadow zone, which is shown in on the left.” should be removed
- p. 176 “Thus, it is usually quite easy for people to avoid the lava produce by a volcano.” Should be produced.
- p. 191 “First, flip back and look at the fossil leaf again.” Should be “go”
- p. 195 “If you were to touch that log, it would not feel like wood.” “to” is missing.
- p. 197 “The fossils from in the Geology Basics Kit” should be removed.
- p. 198 “As I pointed out after the first experiment (p. 185),” should be “184”
- p. 200 “It is thought that that the jellyfish died ...” should be removed
- p. 201 “It’s a calcium carbonate plate made by a single-celled organism” “a” is missing.
- p. 202 “Reading too Much into Fossils” should be capitalized.
- p. 207 “Because sedimentary rocks that make up the Pink cliffs” should be capitalized
- p. 209 “we can say that the geological column is a representation of how different strata of fossil-bearing rocks correlate to one another around the world.” “of” is missing.
- p. 213 “Aside from a few places where I discussed differences in the way scientists interpret the data, I have focused on what we know based on observations that have been made.” The period is missing
- p. 213 “Nebraska man and the original interpretation of Pakicetus” should be italicized.
- p. 218 “989,000,000 of them would be carbon-12 atoms. 10,999,999 would be carbon-13 atoms” should be 989,000,000,000 and 10,999,999,999
- p. 247 “Since the reaction was faster in the initially hot vinegar, the amount of mass used up in the that vinegar should have been greater.” “the” should not be there
- p. 256 “However, they were rare, so the grasses themselves didn’t fossilized” should be “fossilize”
- p. 260 “interpretation are the of places” should be removed
- p. 266 “Finally, YECs are quick to point out that as it the case...”, “it” should be “is”
- p. 267 “Flying squirrels are part of a group of animals called marsupials should be “Sugar gliders”

- p. 281 In the bottom figure caption, “scientist” should be “scientists”
- p. 286 “(It is in a small plastic bag labeled “Mass Activity Rock.”)”) “)” is missing
- p. 287 “Repeat steps 5 and 6” should be “Repeat steps 4 and 5.”
- p. 297 “However, you might wonder why the oceans hold the former, while rivers, streams, and most lakes hold the latter.” “t” is missing.
- p. 298 “Thus, when the water vapor hit the cool lid and become liquid again, the water had no salt in it.” It should be “became”
- p. 301 “If there this is no artesian well nearby, you can dig a hole and eventually get to the groundwater, forming the more common version of a well. “this” shouldn’t be there
- p. 314 “If we think of the moon as not moving at all during a given day, then the wide and flat parts of the oval never move, bit the earth spins inside that oval.” Change to “but”
- p. 314 “However, since the sun is farther away, its gravity can’t pull on the water has hard as the moon.” Change to “as”
- p. 321 “As the shell moves south, it travels over land it is moving to the east faster.” Should be “that”
- p. 322 In the figure caption, “determine” should be “determined”
- p. 331 “Nevertheless, it is more permanent that most frost, since it tends to stay frozen through the summer.” Change to “than”
- p. 345 “absolutely necessary for life of this planet.” Should be “on”
- p. 354 “Lighting also produces nitrogen oxides and ozone.” Should be “Lightning”
- p. 382 “as shown in the left picture below” “the” is missing
- p. 396 “Until scientist can definitively state ...” should be “scientists”
- p. 412 “However what scientists call “acid rain” has more acid it than it should, making the pH even lower.” Should be removed
- p. 414 “Wilson Bently” should be “Bentley”
- p. 422 “If the correct conditions of wind shear and updraft are present or into an area” should be “in”

- p. 433 “The spacecraft craft detected both of them” should be removed
- p. 440 “but then been kicked out” should be “were”
- p. 445 “has been interpreted to indicate that the sun is not at rest.” “the” is missing
- p. 447 “let it cool before you try to remove it from the lamp if you need to remove it.” “you” is missing
- p. 452 “than the electromagnetic waves that comes from a solar flare.” Should be “come”
- p. 458 “moon’s orbit around the sun.” Should be “earth”
- p. 465 “which allowed scientist to determine” should be “scientists”
- p. 468 “tiny, tiny spec compared to all of God’s creation” Should be “speck”
- p. 470 “we see planets because the reflect light from the sun.” Should be “they”
- p. 479 “it simply refers to something for which the absolute magnitude can be determine without knowing how far away it is.” Should be “determined”
- p. 482 “Milky Way galaxy, which is shown on in the image below.” Should be removed
- p. 490 “Summing it All Up” should be capitalized

Answer Key & Tests

- p. 88 In #9, “ the size of a water drop” “of” is missing
